Moving On Group

The transition (Moving On) group is based at Oaklands College St Albans. It is led by college learners aged 16 -21. The learners chose the group's name and set the ground rules and agendas for the meetings. Learners can choose to join the group and choose not to at anytime.

The Purpose of the Group

- To bring together a group of disabled young people and professionals, in order to improve services at transition.
- Young people with a wide range of disabilities and abilities make up the majority of the group

About these webpages

We want these pages to be a place for young people, parents and carers and the professionals who work with them to learn more about transition. Over time we hope to provide resources, share experiences and create a guide to the material available on transition, both online and in print. If you have information you'd like us to make available on these pages, please email us.

Big Thanks.....

- The groups membership
- Oaklands College not only host the group and webpages but provide support staff.
- It is part of the college day but other options take place at the same time so learners have a choice...
